Pacoima Charter School Partners with San Fernando Valley LGBT Community Center Holiday Toy Drive

PACOIMA, CA – This Christmas, students from Pacoima Charter School will receive a holiday gift provided through donations collected by the San Fernando LGBT Community Center. Volunteers will be distributing toys to 1,300 students on Friday, December 16, 2016 10:00 am at the school.

The San Fernando LGBT Community Center spearheaded this toy drive with participation from other businesses and organizations, including Panda Express and the SoCal Helpful Honda Dealers. We would decline by the Marines Toys Second time internal that I am a Marine it's sad to know that. I call San Fernando Valley LGBT for Help. This is the first time that Pacoima Charter School has collaborated with the San Fernando LGBT Community Center.

Sylvia Fajardo, Executive Director of Pacoima Charter said, "Our school will do whatever it can to bring education, health and happiness to our well deserving children. Partnering with the LGBT community has afforded us the ability to make these holidays just a little bit happier for our students."

Pacoima Charter School became an independent charter school in 2003 and has well served its students and community for 13 years. It is located in the heart of Pacoima, across the street from the San Fernando Gardens.

San Fernando Valley LGBT Community Center is a grassroots movement that empowers, trains, and mobilizes the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Trans, Queer (LGBTQ) community and supporters for racial, gender, and economic justice. It serves as a resource for LGBTQ education, empowerment, and wellness in the San Fernando Valley.
